BP3 (Bela Peč 3) — The Pistotnik → Poljansek Transition, 1815–1851

Status: Working analysis · living document — to be updated as research progresses First drafted: 2026-05-18 Source for this analysis: Gary Del Nero's email of 2026-05-18 in response to the 1944 Livku article translation, combined with Acorn DB claims and existing worksheets Owner: Larry Matola / Gary Del Nero (collaborative) Status of conclusions: Working hypotheses, not yet ratified in Acorn

Primary source records: Matricula Online (data.matricula-online.eu), Nadškofijski arhiv Ljubljana.

Executive Summary

Bela Peč 3 — the "Pr Osredeg" homestead, originally the Osredkar farm — passed through three distinct surname eras in 224 years while keeping the same house and the same community-memory of "Osredkarjevi":

Era	Surname at BP3	Trigger event
pre-1730	Osredkar	original family
1730–c.1843	Pistotnik	Joseph Pistotnik married Eliz Osredkar 1730 and adopted the house name
c.1843–present	Poljansek	No surviving legitimate Pistotnik male heir at BP3 by the early 1840s; Poljansek family already partially intermarried, took over

The transition from Pistotnik to Poljansek happened in a tight 1839–1851 window through two well-documented mechanisms and one inferred mechanism operating in parallel: (1) an 1839 Poljansek–Pistotnik daughter marriage, (2) Eliz Pistotnik's illegitimate child Oswald by a suspected Poljansek father (Oswald died Aug 1842), and (3) the apparent absence of a surviving legitimate Pistotnik male heir at BP3 by the 1840s — the records for any such heir's death have not yet been located.

This analysis documents that transition and connects it to the 1944 Livku massacre article, which identified BP3 victims as "Osredkarjevi (Bela Peč 3)" — the community still using the original house name a century after the Poljansek surname had taken over.

IMPORTANT CORRECTION (2026-05-22): A prior draft of this chain placed Stephan Pistotnik as the son of Bartholomew Pistotnik (b. 1767). That was wrong. Acorn records confirm Bartholomew (b. 1767) moved to Schuttenbach 3 / Zale 3, where his children — including Anna (b. 1805, Larry's direct ancestor via Grill) and Barthol Pistotnik Jr (b. 1817, d. Dec 1842) — were born. Stephan at BP3 must descend through a different sibling of Bartholomew (likely Blasius b.1751, Mathias b.1755, or Valentin b.1758) and his exact parentage is not yet established. The 1825 cadastre confirms only that Stephan held BP3 at that point. The Dec 1842 death of the Schuttenbach 3 Barthol Pistotnik Jr is therefore unrelated to the BP3 transition — it's a same-name, same-year death in a separate Pistotnik branch.

Key cross-house tie (2026-05-18): Stephan Pistotnik's wife Eliz was a daughter of Gregor Rems at Sup. Palovce 4 — the same SP4 where Helena Rems (your direct ancestor) was born in 1777 and where her grandparents Martinus & Barbara Rems lived. This is the 4th documented BP↔SP marriage in this family cluster, per Gary's count.

Gary's findings (2026-05-18 email)

Verbatim, with light formatting:

1. Helen Shumar birth record at Bela Peč 7, not BP6, yet her siblings later appear at BP6. The two BP6/BP7 houses' geographic relationship needs locating. By the 1860s, this property is also owned by Poljansek — descending from Mathias.
2. Stephan Pistotnik of the Bela Peč farm married Eliz of Gregor Rems of Sup Palovce 4 (across the road from Geo Osredkar), in 1815. They had several kids there. Then Eliz had a child with an unnamed father — named Oswald — who died Aug 1842. This is the 4th marriage observed between the Bela Peč / Sovinja Peč families and Palovce. (Note: the illegitimate child's name "Oswald" was supplied by Larry on 2026-05-22, not in Gary's original email.)
3. Mathias Poljansek has a son at Pollane 1 who dies age 5 at BP3 (the Osredkar farm at Bela Peč), May 1843.
4. In 1851, Mathias Poljansek, age 62, dies at BP3, and his son (born at Pollane 1) marries and starts a family at BP3.
5. An odd record has Anton (s/o Mathias Poljansek) m. daughter of Stephan and Eliz, 1839 — but both have odd house numbers. This may be the way Poljansek connects to the Pistotnik farm. Mathias or one of his sons could be the father of the illegitimate child. No death record yet for Stephan or Eliz.
6. The Livku 1944 battle article named Poljansek at the farm — Gary hadn't extended the research downward to the connection point until now.

New evidence — Blasius & Valentin marriage records (2026-07-31)

The 2026-07-31 Acorn claims-promotion sweep attached Matricula citations to two marriage records that were already in the database as uncited raw dates. Both bear directly on the "who is Stephan's father" question above:

Candidate	Marriage	Date	Source
Blasius Pistotnik (b.1751)	m. Maria Pogatshar/ Pogadishar (dau. of Antoni)	6 Feb 1776	Matricula 03372 pg5, Šmartno v Tuhinju — record noted as crossed out in the register
Valentin Pistotnik (b.1758)	m. Eliz Kramar	31 Jan 1783	Matricula 03372 pg13, Šmartno v Tuhinju — recorded there as "Valentin Pistotnik Osredkar"

Both dates are consistent with fathering a son born ~1785–1795 (the window needed for Stephan to be marriageable by 1815), so neither candidate is ruled in or out by this alone — but two things stand out:

- Valentin's 1783 marriage record uses "Pistotnik Osredkar" as a compound surname — direct documentary evidence of the vulgo-persists pattern this whole analysis is built around, thirteen years before Bartholomew's generation and independent of the BP3 house itself. Worth noting alongside the Livku 1944 "Osredkarjevi" reference as another data point for the same phenomenon.
- Blasius's marriage record is crossed out in the register — unclear whether this indicates an annulment, a clerical correction, or something else. If the marriage was voided, Blasius likely drops as a candidate for Stephan's father (or Stephan would need to come from a subsequent marriage not yet found). Worth a direct look at the original scan to see whether the crossing-out includes a marginal note explaining why.

These were found at Šmartno v Tuhinju (03372), not Vranja Pec — confirms the Joseph × Apolonija Prelesnik family's marriage records live in a different parish register than the BP3-era records already used elsewhere in this analysis.

New evidence — Gary's annotated 1826 cadastre map (2026-08-06)

Gary plotted the "Snoille, 1826" Franziscan Cadastre sheet for the Savinja Peč/Bela Peč cluster and drew boundary lines identifying family plots (Acorn source `c3e18224-49fd-4608-835b-3725bc1ceee8`; full label transcript at `source-docs/savinja-pec-bela-pec-cadastre-1826-map-edits.md`). Directly relevant to this analysis:

- Confirms Bela Peč 3 = "Osredkar Farm, Stephan Pistotnik" on the map itself, matching this worksheet's chain exactly.

- Confirms the Ravne 8 / Bela Peč 3 adjacency already noted (unsourced) in `pistotnik-bartholomew-helena.md` — Anna Pistotnik's 1805 birthplace is shown neighboring BP3 on the map.
- BP3 is notably larger than the neighboring "Luikovo" properties, separated by a creek — geographic context not previously captured anywhere in this analysis. "Luikovo" not yet cross-checked against any existing Acorn place.
- New parcels named but not yet formalized in Acorn: Bela Peč 4 (Kuchar), Bela Peč 5 (Podbregar), Bela Peč 6 (Dollinsheg), Pollane 1–4, a plot "shared with seven families." None of these are linked to this worksheet's Pistotnik/Poljansek chain yet, but BP4/5/6 are candidates for the still-unresolved Stephan Pistotnik parentage question (his father is one of Bartholomew's siblings, all presumably still in this cluster).
- Naming collision reminder: the map's "SP5/SP6/SP7" labels are Savinja Peč (this cluster, Šmartno v Tuhinju parish), not Zgornje Palovče's SP1–8. Already flagged in this worksheet's "4th BP↔SP marriage" table (#2, Sovinja Peč 5) — worth remembering as more of this cluster gets mapped.
- Not yet acted on: Gary's "wiggly road between our two homesteads" observation and the Luikovo-family-cycling-through-Shumer note are narrative context only, not yet tied to a specific research question.

The 1842 / 1843 / 1851 cluster — deaths and a takeover

Cross-referencing Gary's findings with the 1842/1843 events already in Acorn and the worksheets:

Date	Event	Significance
1815	Stephan Pistotnik × Eliz Rems marriage at BP3 (per Gary)	Cross-tie between BP3 (Pistotnik) and SP4 (Rems) families
1839	Anton Poljansek (s/o Mathias) m. daughter of Stephan & Eliz	First Poljansek tie to BP3; both have "odd house numbers" per Gary
Aug 1842	Oswald (Eliz Pistotnik's illegitimate child) dies at BP3	Father unnamed; Mathias Poljansek or one of his sons suspected. Name "Oswald" supplied 2026-05-22
May 1843	Mathias Poljansek's son (b. ~1838 at "Pollane 1") dies age 5 at BP3	Poljansek family demonstrably resident at BP3
1851		Patriarchal handoff

Date	Event	Significance
	Mathias Poljansek (age 62) dies at BP3
1851+	Mathias's surviving son (born "Pollane 1") marries and starts family at BP3	Poljansek consolidation; line continues to 1944

NOT included in the BP3 cluster (corrected 2026-05-22): A previous draft of this table included "Dec 1842 — Barthol Pistotnik Jr (b. 1817) dies, the legitimate Pistotnik heir." That entry has been removed. The Acorn record for that Barthol Jr death (claim `d8f24797`) is for a different Pistotnik — son of Bartholomew (b. 1767) at Schuttenbach 3 / Zale 3, not Stephan & Eliz's son at BP3. The two Pistotnik branches share a great-grandfather (Joseph × Apolonija Prelesnik, 1750) but diverged a generation earlier than this analysis originally claimed.

What happened, in one sentence (revised 2026-05-22): By the early 1840s, the Pistotnik line at BP3 lacked a surviving legitimate male heir; the household had been receiving Poljansek influence via the 1839 Anton Poljansek × Stephan/Eliz's-daughter marriage and Eliz's illegitimate son Oswald (b./d. by Aug 1842) by a suspected Poljansek father; within a year of Oswald's death the Poljansek family was openly resident at BP3 with their own children dying there.

Gary's instinct that "something happened 1842/1843" is correct — Oswald's August 1842 death and the Poljansek son's May 1843 death at BP3 frame a tight window during which the Poljansek family moved in.

Gary's Poljanšek-at-BP3 chain with record links (2026-09-30): 7 of 12 VERIFIED (2026-10-01/02), 5 UNVERIFIED

From a snippet of Gary's narrative in progress, sent to Larry on 2026-09-30. 7 of the 12 links were verified against the scans and logged in Acorn (see below): the 1839 marriage, Theresia's 1853 baptism and Georg × Agnes Pirz 1852 (2026-10-01); Mathias's 1789 birth and 1851 death, Barthol's 1860 baptism and Franz's 1890 baptism (2026-10-02). Still unchecked and not in Acorn (all collateral): Joseph's death 1843 (04348 scan 63), Maria's birth 1857 (02098 scan 58), Maria's child 1880 (02098 scan 111), Josepha 1887 (02098 scan 126), Theresia 1888 (02098 scan 130). Gary's wording is kept; his house numbers are as he gives them, and he notes the 1839 record's numbers "are incorrect" and "do not match either family". Matricula's `?pg=` is the scan number.

The 1839 marriage: the first Pistotnik–Poljanšek tie

Event	Gary's note	Link
Marriage 1839 (VERIFIED 2026-10-01)	Maria (19), daughter of Stephan Pistotnik (of Joseph & Apolonia) and Eliz Rems, "SP5?", m. Anton (25), son of Mathias Poljanšek, "BP2?"	Sela 02101 pg15

Gary adds: Eliz Rems is from Zgornje Palovče (ZGP), across the road from the Budnar Museum, so the Rems family is part of this story too. "SP5?" in his note may therefore mean ZGP5, not Sovinja Peč 5 (see the SP/ZGP collision note). "Shortly after this marriage, Anton's young brother Joseph dies here, then his father, then his brother Georg marries and starts a family here."

VERIFIED 2026-10-01 from the scan (Larry's screenshots and crops; Sela 02101, register page 14, scan 15). The register's own column headers were checked first (Bräutigam/Braut: Wohnort, Haus Nro, Name/Stand, Religion, Altersjahre, ledig/Witwer; right page: parents, Beystände, priest).

Field	Reading	Confidence
Date	4 February 1839 ("1839 Febr 4ten")	HIGH
Groom	Anton Polanshek (Poljanšek), ½ H, Wohnort Belan pezh (Bela Peč), Haus Nro 2, Catholic, age 25, single	HIGH
Groom's father	Matthäus (Mathias) Polanshek, ½ H	HIGH
Groom's mother	Helena [surname illegible]	MEDIUM / surname LOW
Bride	Maria Pistotnik, Wohnort Sovinja pezh (Sovinja Peč), Haus Nro 5 (read by Larry 2026-10-01), Catholic, age 19, single	HIGH
Bride's parents	Stephan Pistotnik and Elisabeth Remis (= Rems)	HIGH (Remis read clearly; agrees with Gary)
Witnesses	Franz Po-lanshek, ½ H; Matthäus Smolnik[ar?]	MEDIUM / LOW

UNCERTAIN_FIELDS (not in Acorn): short status word under the bride's name and a second line under Stephan's (possibly "Auszügler[s Tochter]", LOW); groom's mother's surname; witness 2 and his status.

What it settles: Gary's chain link 1 holds: Anton, son of Mathias Poljanšek, married Stephan Pistotnik and Elisabeth Rems's daughter Maria. Gary's "odd house numbers" are Bela Peč 2 (groom) and Sovinja Peč 5 (bride). The register writes Sovinja pezh in full, so Gary's "SP5" is Sovinja Peč 5, not ZGP5. Sovinja Peč 5 is the Liuk/Livek homestead, Georg Osredkar's (b.1777) birth house, which Joseph Osredkar owned in 1827: so in 1839 Stephan Pistotnik's daughter was living at the Osredkar home farm, consistent with Stephan being the Pistotnik/Osredkar brother of Maria Osredkar.

Identity notes (inference, not proven): (1) the bride is very probably the "Miza b. 1819 at BP3" in Stephan Pistotnik's Acorn notes (Miza = Maria; age 19 in Feb 1839 → born Feb 1819–Feb 1820). Her baptism would prove it. (2) Gary gives Stephan as "of Joseph & Apolonia", but Acorn's Stephan (b. Dec 1781, BP3, `951ea17c`) is the son of Blasius Pistotnik & Maria Pogatshar. The register doesn't name Stephan's parents, so this entry doesn't settle it; flagged for Gary. Maria was linked to Acorn's Stephan `951ea17c` on the strength of the BP3/Miza-1819 fit.

Acorn (2026-10-01): source `faa07ed5`; new people Anton Poljanšek `a81a0f3c`, Mathias Poljanšek `431b1505`, Maria Pistotnik `345a0a9d`, Elisabeth Rems `4c79af3b`; families Anton × Maria `2edfab4b` (marriage date/place confirmed), Stephan × Elisabeth `956b53f6` (child Maria), Mathias × [Helena] `7a0813ff` (child Anton). Birth years from ages are medium. Maria's residence "Sovinja Peč 5 (1839)" claim `8d012446` added after Larry's house-number read.

Georg × Agnes marriage VERIFIED 2026-10-01 (Larry's screenshots; Sela 02101, register page 25, scan 26; same layout as the 1839 entry in this book):

Field	Reading	Confidence
Date	9 February 1852 ("Febr. 9."; "1852 Febr. 9" on the row above, Lorenz Plahutnik of Rožično 1)	HIGH
Groom	Georg Poljanšek, Hübler, Bela Peč 3, Catholic, 25, single	HIGH
Groom's parents	"Seligen Matthäus Poljanšek, Hübler" (seligen = the late) and Helena Repanšek	Father HIGH; "seligen" and Repanšek MEDIUM-HIGH

Witnesses	Gregor Hribar, Auszügler; Anton Poljanšek, ½ Hübler	MEDIUM-HIGH
Priest	Matthäus Ravnikar, Lokalist	HIGH

What it settles: Georg (father of Theresia b.1853) is Mathias Poljanšek's son, so links 1, 2 and 4 are one family: Mathias × Helena (Repanšek) → Anton (½ H, Bela Peč 2, m. 1839 Maria Pistotnik of Sovinja Peč 5) and Georg (Hübler, Bela Peč 3, m. 1852 Agnes Pirš of Znojile 4) → Theresia (b. 1853, BP3). "Seligen" puts Mathias's death before 9 Feb 1852, consistent with Gary's Dec 1851 death at BP3 (link 3, still to read). Witness Anton Poljanšek is very probably the 1839 groom, Georg's brother (inference). The groom's mother, unreadable in 1839, reads Helena Repanšek here. Mathias is "½ H" in 1839 but "Hübler" in 1852, perhaps reflecting the move to BP3.

Acorn (2026-10-01): source `56bcd132`; family Georg × Agnes `a5250440` now has marriage date/place (confirmed); Georg `07259151` added as a child of Mathias's family `7a0813ff` (child_of confirmed); new person Lucas Pirš `2c81368c` (family `8c1be410`, child Agnes); Mathias `431b1505` death "before 9 Feb 1852" (medium); ages-derived birth years medium.

Acorn source `0a0cda80`.
- Agnes Pirš's death: 20 Feb 1894, CONFIRMED 2026-10-02. Sela 02100 p.76, scan 77 (https://data.matricula-online.eu/de/slovenia/ljubljana/sela-pri-kamniku/02100/?pg=77), entry 2: "[struck name] Agnes geb. Pirš, Eheweib des Georg Poljanšek, Auszüglers", Belapeč 3, d. 20 Feb 1894, buried 22 Feb, 67, Wassersucht (dropsy, medium). The SA's pencil note "† 20. ?. 1894" agrees; its Mortuus column "24/2 8?" does not. Acorn source `36ff3c20`, claims `74ca449d` (date), `ad517861` (place).
- Georg was born at Poljane 1, which fits the storyteller's "the Poljanšeks came from Poljana".
- Theresia (b. 1853) is not in the household by 1884, consistent with her having married away.
- Barthol's baptism verified 2026-10-02 (link 3, see the table above). Franz's baptism verified 2026-10-02 (link 5). Mathias's death verified 2026-10-02 (21 Dec 1851, age 62¼). Chain now register-verified Mathias (d. 1851) → Georg → Barthol → Franz; Mathias's 1789 baptism verified 2026-10-02 (27 Aug 1789, Pollane 5, son of Andreas × Agnes; identity by age). Chain: Andreas × Agnes (Pollane 5) → Mathias → Georg → Barthol → Franz.

Theresia's baptism VERIFIED 2026-10-01 (Larry's screenshots; Sela 02098, register page 46, scan 49). The page has three Theresias in three days, consecutive rows under one "Septembr" heading (no new month word between them):

Row	Date	Born at	Child	Parents	Godparents
1	Sept 15 born / 16 bapt.	Žebejevo 5	Theresia, illegitimate, † 15 Sep 1855	— / Maria Romšak, unmarried ½-Hübler's daughter	Anton Poljanšek; Theresia Malič (½ Hübler)
2	17 born & bapt.	Znojile 3	Theresia	Johann Kotnik, Hübler / Maria Malič	Lukas Jutteršek(?); Maria Pirš, ½ Hüblerin
3	17 born / 18 bapt.	Bela peč 3	Theresia, legitimate	Georg Poljanšek, Hübler / Agnes Pirš	Anton Malič; Maria Poljanšek (½ Hübler)

Row 3 is Gary's Theresia: born 17 September 1853, baptised 18 September, Bela Peč 3, father Georg Poljanšek, Hübler, mother Agnes Pirš (= Pirz) (all HIGH). Godparents MEDIUM-HIGH; godmother Maria Poljanšek is probably the 1839 bride Maria Pistotnik (inference). The surnames Malič and Pirš recur across all three rows' godparents and mothers. Gary's link was right; check the house and parents before assuming the first "Theresia" on a page is the one.

Not established by this entry: (a) that Georg is Mathias's son (the 1852 marriage, link 4, should name his father); (b) that this Theresia is Terezija Osredkar's mother, which needs Terezija's 1879 baptism or Theresia's marriage to Franz Osredkar.

RESOLVED 2026-10-02: Theresia (b. 1853, BP3) is the mother of Terezija Osredkar. Terezija's baptism, Sela 02098 p.103, scan 109 (Acorn source `57ef13a0`): 11 Oct 1879, born and baptised the same day, Sovinjapeč 5, Theresia, girl, legitimate; father Franz Osredkar, ½ Hübler; mother Theresia Poljanšek; godparents Valentin Resnik (½ Hübler) and Helena Kuhar; midwife Theresia Šuštar; priest Johann Šafer(?), Pfarrer. The Sela Status Animarum (Tadej's images, source `a5faf8b5`: vol. 1 p.68 and vol. 2 p.56) gives the mother as Theresia Poljanšek, born Belapeč 3, 17 Sept 1853, which is exactly this baptism, wife of Franz Osredkar (b. 30 Jan 1849, SP5), m. 24 Feb 1876; she d. 7 Nov 1912, he d. 29 Sep 1918. Terezija married Janez Kuhar (b. 17 Aug 1873, BP4) on 6 Feb 1899; both d. 15 Oct 1944 at Livek. - Acorn: Terezija `11e2c7e2` (birth confirmed); Franz Osredkar (Livek) `6b2ddfea` (b. 1849 high, d. 1918 medium); family `f4c2e920` (m. 1876, SA only); Theresia Poljanšek's death 7 Nov 1912 (medium). Kuhar/1899/1944 not yet logged (separate thread). - So Gary's hypothesis holds: Alojz Kuhar descends from both the BP3 Poljanšeks and the Livek Osredkars. - Franz Osredkar's own parents: Primus Osredkar (b. 1806, SP5, widower in the household, d. 10 Jun 1884) is the likely father, not linked.

Gary's hypothesis about the storyteller Katie met: Katie spoke with an elderly member of the Poljanšek family still living at Bela Peč (Sept 2026). Gary thinks she belongs to Franz's branch of this chain (Mathias → Georg → Barth → Franz Poljanšek), and that the two men killed here in 1944, Martin (b. 1912) and Janez (b. 1921) Poljanšek of BP3, killed by partisans on 24 Nov 1944 (`source-docs/osredkar-homestead-notes-2026-05.md`), were close family. Martin, born the year after Franz's 1911 marriage, fits. Unverified. She is living, so personal details are kept in the private notes only (`source-docs/katies-trip/terrace-storyteller-conversation-summary.md`).

How this chain relates to our line (if verified): - The storyteller would descend from Mathias Poljanšek through his son Georg, not through the Pistotnik bride (who married Georg's brother Anton). So she would not be a Pistotnik or Osredkar descendant herself. - Her family's tie to Livek runs through her great-aunt Theresia (b. 1853), if Theresia is Terezija Osredkar's mother. - Her only possible blood link to us is the Poljanšek family of Pollane. Our direct ancestor Gertrudis Poljanšek (b. 1735, daughter of Georg × Eliz) was also "of Pollane". How Andreas of Polane 5 (fl. 1789) connects to that earlier Georg × Eliz is unknown.

Suggested verification order: (1) the 1839 marriage; (2) Theresia's 1853 baptism (the Livek link); (3) Mathias's 1789 baptism and 1851 death; (4) the 1852 marriage, then Barthol 1860 → Franz 1890 and his 1911 marriage; (5) the rest.

Poljansek entry mechanisms (operating in parallel)

The Poljansek displacement of Pistotnik at BP3 wasn't a single event but a converging combination of mechanisms; together they made the transition rapid:

1. Legitimate marriage tie (1839): Anton Poljansek (son of Mathias) m. a daughter of Stephan & Eliz at BP3 (Gary notes both records have "odd house numbers"). This put a Poljansek heir in direct line for any property the daughter inherited.

2. Illegitimate child Oswald (d. Aug 1842): Eliz Pistotnik produced at least one illegitimate child — Oswald — by an unnamed father, suspected to be Mathias Poljansek or one of his sons. Had Oswald survived, he might have been recognized into the household as part of the Pistotnik de facto family; his death removed that path but also removed a potential Pistotnik-surnamed heir.

3. Absence of surviving legitimate Pistotnik male heir (inferred, not yet documented): No records have yet been located showing a legitimate son of Stephan & Eliz at BP3 surviving to inherit. With Stephan aging, no legitimate male successor on the male line, and Eliz's daughter already married to Anton Poljansek (1839), the practical heir became Anton Poljansek's family. Note: this mechanism was previously framed around a "Dec 1842 death of Barthol Pistotnik Jr." That attribution was wrong (he was at Schuttenbach 3, not BP3). The mechanism stands but is now framed as an absence rather than a documented death event.

The 1842/1843 deaths at BP3 (Oswald in Aug 1842 and Mathias Poljansek's son in May 1843) are the trigger for the Poljansek consolidation happening fast.

The Livku 1944 article connection

The Livku massacre article (Reporter, 21 March 2022 — translated `source-docs/slovenian-research/Livku-1944-druzina-part7-translation.md`) names the two BP3 Poljansek brothers murdered by partisans on 24 November 1944:

- Janez Poljansek (b. 1921)
- Martin Poljansek (b. 1912)

The article describes them as "Osredkarjevi (Bela Peč 3)" — community shorthand for the Osredkar-family-at-BP3. With the Pistotnik → Poljansek transition documented, the chain of custody on BP3 is now complete from 1730 to 1944:

Joseph Pistotnik (1730 marriage to Eliz Osredkar) — adopts Osredkar house name
   ↓ ~110 years (Pistotnik surname legally; "Osredkarjevi" in community memory)
Stephan Pistotnik & Eliz (Rems) (1815–c.1842)
   ↓ transition c.1839–1843 (three mechanisms above)
Mathias Poljansek (d. 1851 BP3) → his son (m. BP3 c.1851)
   ↓ ~93 years (Poljansek surname; "Osredkarjevi" STILL in community memory)
Janez & Martin Poljansek (b. 1912, 1921, both murdered 1944) — "Osredkarjevi (Bela Peč 3)"

The intervening 19th- and early-20th-century Poljansek generations between Mathias's son and Janez/Martin haven't been researched yet — that's the next opportunity if you want to fully close the gap.

This pattern (vulgo persists, legal surname changes) was the methodological note in the Livku translation commentary; BP3 is now a strong case study with two surname changes (Osredkar → Pistotnik 1730 → Poljansek c.1843) while the original house name held through the whole 200+ years.

Open Research Questions

For Gary's manual research or for future Acorn additions, in rough priority order:

High priority — close the immediate Pistotnik → Poljansek chain

- [ ] How does Stephan Pistotnik at BP3 connect back to Joseph × Apolonija Prelesnik (m. 1750)? Most likely descent: son of one of Bartholomew (b.1767)'s elder brothers — Blasius

(b.1751), Mathias (b.1755), or Valentin (b.1758). Valentin was at SP7 by 1825 so probably ruled out; Blasius and Mathias are open. Update 2026-07-31: Blasius's 1776 and Valentin's 1783 marriage records are now both cited (see "New evidence" above) — both dates fit the ~1785–1795 window, so neither is eliminated by timing alone. Blasius's marriage record being crossed out in the register may be significant — worth checking the original scan for a marginal note. Stephan's own birth record would still resolve this most directly.

- [ ] Who fathered Oswald (Eliz Pistotnik's illegitimate child, d. Aug 1842)? The death record may name the mother explicitly; Oswald's birth record (likely ~1841–1842 if he died as an infant) may have the father marked ignotus. Worth pulling both records.
- [ ] Mathias Poljansek's own birth/parentage — age 62 at 1851 death implies b. ~1789. Where was he born? Who were his parents? Lead 2026-09-30 (Gary): "Matheus to Andreas and Agnes, Polane 5", 1789, Šmartno 03362 pg33. Verify on the scan; see "Gary's Poljanšek-at-BP3 chain" above.
- [ ] Mathias Poljansek's wife — was he married, and to whom? His son was born at "Pollane 1" ~1838 — that's where the wife may be from. (Still open; Gary's 2026-09-30 note doesn't name her. The 1852 marriage of their son Georg, 02101 pg26, should name both of Georg's parents.)
- [ ] What is "Pollane 1"? — A village name? Variant of Polane / Palovče? Inferior Palovče 1? The 1843 death record may name it precisely. Update 2026-08-06: Gary's annotated 1826 cadastre map labels a "Pollane" village ("Pollane bey Bellapetsch," top of sheet, with numbered plots 1-4) in the same Šmartno v Tuhinju/Sovinja Peč area — now formalized as an Acorn place (`e98a8102-501d-49c2-9dcd-75b9212cd3d5`). Strong candidate match for this "Pollane 1," but not yet confirmed as the same place — the individual numbered plots (Pollane 1-4) aren't formalized themselves since no claim cites a specific one yet. See `source-docs/savinja-pec-bela-pec-cadastre-1826-map-edits.md`.
- [ ] The 1839 Anton Poljansek × Stephan/Eliz's daughter marriage record — Gary notes "both have odd house numbers." This record may resolve the "Pollane 1" question too. Lead 2026-09-30 (Gary): the bride is Maria (19), the link is Sela 02101 pg15, and her mother Eliz Rems is from Zgornje Palovče. First record to verify.
- [ ] Death records for Stephan Pistotnik and Eliz Rems — when did each die? Gary has not located either yet.
- [ ] Did Stephan & Eliz have any legitimate sons at BP3 who would have been heirs? Birth records 1815–1830 at BP3 should be searchable. Their fates (survival to adulthood, death dates) would clarify the third "entry mechanism" above.

Medium priority — possible record disambiguations

- [ ] Joanes Rems / Mathias Poljansek's son disambiguation: Acorn has Joanes Rems b. 14 Jun 1838, d. ~1843 ~age 5. Gary documents Mathias Poljansek's son b. ~1838 at "Pollane 1", d. age 5 May 1843 at BP3. These are likely two different children, but both born 1838 and both died in 1843 at age 5 — worth verifying the records are distinct.
- [ ] Helen Shumar birth at BP7 vs Schumer at SP6 — the 1825 cadastral survey put Barth Schumer at Sovinja Peč 6, plots 843–870. Gary now finds Helen Shumar's birth at Bela Peč 7 with siblings later at Bela Peč 6. Two settlements, similar surnames — distinct branches, single branch with cross-settlement holdings, or transcription drift? This complicates the Q `41587318` hypothesis that the SP6 Schumer is Helen Pistotnik's family.

Lower priority — extending forward to the Livku 1944 victims

- [ ] Generations between Mathias Poljansek (d. 1851) and Janez (b. 1921) / Martin (b. 1912) Poljansek — three or four generations of BP3 Poljansek residence to document. Parish records 1850s–1920s.
- [ ] What was the Poljansek property history at the original "Pollane 1" homestead after the family relocated to BP3? Was it sold? Retained?
- [ ] The Anton Poljansek 1839 marriage daughter (Stephan & Eliz's daughter) — name and dates not yet established. The marriage record gives her name; her birth record and any subsequent child-bearing should be findable.
- [ ] "Is Potozhnik same family?" — New lead 2026-08-06, from Gary's notes (`kamnik-families-v3.md` p.42-43), immediately after Pistotnik/Grill discussion. Unclear if this is a spelling variant of Pistotnik (per the surname-variant note in `pistotniki-osredkarji.md`) or the unrelated common surname Potočnik. Never resolved either way; low research value.

Methodology / consistency

- [x] The "4th BP↔SP marriage" count — Gary's running tally. Tabulated 2026-08-01 from existing worksheets — turns out the premise needs a caveat: only two of the four candidates are actually a clean Bela Peč↔Zgornje Palovče cross-settlement marriage. The other two involve a third settlement or aren't confirmed at all.

#	Marriage	Date	Origins	Confidence
1	Stephan Pistotnik × Eliz Rems	1815	Bela Peč 3 × Zgornje Palovče 4	High — this analysis's own subject; see above

#	Marriage	Date	Origins	Confidence
2	Georg Osredkar × Helena Rems	1796	Sovinja Peč 5 (not Bela Peč) × Zgornje Palovče 4	High — osredkar-G04-georg-helena-rems.md
3	Joseph Pistotnik × Elizabeta Osredkar	26 Nov 1730	Gabria (not Zgornje Palovče) × Bela Peč 3	High on the facts, but this is a Gabria→BP3 marriage, not a BP↔SP one — pistotnik-joseph-eliz-osredkar.md
4	Bartholomew Pistotnik × Helena Shumer	~1802 (estimated)	Bela Peč 3 × Shumer family, origin disputed between Bela Peč 7 and Sovinja Peč 6 (Q `41587318`, open)	Low — marriage record not yet located, date is an inference from a child's birth, per pistotnik-bartholomew-helena.md

So the count depends on how strictly "BP↔SP" is meant: literally Bela Peč↔Zgornje Palovče, only #1 qualifies outright. Broadened to "the Bela Peč/Sovinja Peč settlement cluster ↔ Zgornje Palovče" (which is how this whole research narrative treats the area — the two are ~30 min apart and repeatedly intermarried), #1 and #2 both qualify solidly, and #4 would be a third if its marriage record and Shumer origin ever get confirmed. #3 doesn't fit either framing — Gabria is a separate, third origin point, not part of the BP/SP cluster at all, though it's still a real and well-documented marriage in its own right.

Worksheets that may need updating once this is ratified

- `pistotnik-grill/pistotnik-bartholomew-helena.md` — Bartholomew (b. 1767) is not Stephan's father (corrected 2026-05-22). Bartholomew moved to Schuttenbach 3; the BP3 line continues through one of his siblings. This worksheet correctly documents Bartholomew → Anna → Maria Grill → Mathias Osredkar (the Larry/Gary direct line) and shouldn't be edited to claim Stephan is in this chain.
- `pistotnik-grill/pistotnik-joseph-eliz-osredkar.md` — already documents the 1730 marriage that started the Pistotnik era; could add a "later chain" pointer to this analysis.
- `osredkar/osredkar-luka-bp3.md` — covers the BP3 Osredkar line; could note that the original-Osredkar→Pistotnik→Poljansek house-name continuity is the BP3 story.

- `rems/rems-gregor-helena-kregar.md` or related — Gregor Rems (father of Eliz who m. Stephan Pistotnik 1815) needs to be identified. There are multiple Gregor Rems candidates in the SP4 line; the 1815 marriage record naming his daughter Eliz constrains which Gregor.

Acorn database (potential additions, not yet made)

- New person: Stephan Pistotnik (b. ~1785–1795, m. Eliz Rems 1815, at BP3 by 1825 per cadastre)
- New family unit: Stephan Pistotnik × Eliz Rems, m. 1815, BP3
- New person: Oswald Pistotnik (illegitimate child of Eliz Pistotnik, d. Aug 1842 at BP3, infant)
- New person: Mathias Poljansek (b. ~1789, d. 1851 BP3 age 62)
- New family unit: Anton Poljansek × (Stephan/Eliz's daughter), m. 1839
- New research question: What is the location "Pollane 1"?
- New research question: How does Stephan Pistotnik at BP3 descend from Joseph × Apolonija Prelesnik (m. 1750)? Likely via Blasius (b.1751) or Mathias (b.1755) — Valentin (b.1758) was at SP7 by 1825.
- Refinement to existing Q `41587318` (Schumer / Helen Pistotnik's family): add the BP7-not-BP6 finding
- Possible refinement to Q `68ce019d` (Eva at SP6 1843): unrelated to BP3 but in the same death-cluster year
- Note on existing claims `d8f24797` and `c46531be` (Barthol Pistotnik Jr d. Dec 1842): these are about the Schuttenbach 3 branch (son of Bartholomew b.1767), NOT the BP3 branch — the death is unrelated to the BP3 transition documented here.

Update log

- 2026-09-30 — Added Gary's Poljanšek-at-BP3 chain with 12 Matricula links (1839 marriage → Mathias 1789/1851 → Georg × Agnes Pirz 1852 → Barthol 1860 → Franz 1890), all UNVERIFIED. Added his hypothesis that the elderly Poljanšek storyteller Katie met at Bela Peč belongs to Franz's branch and was close family of the two men killed in Nov 1944, plus the Theresia (1853) → Terezija Osredkar (Livek) link. Updated open questions for Mathias's parentage and the 1839 marriage.
- 2026-08-06 — Added Gary's annotated 1826 cadastre map as a new source (Acorn `c3e18224`) — confirms BP3 = Osredkar Farm/Stephan Pistotnik and the Ravne 8 adjacency, adds BP3-vs-Luikovo size comparison, names several not-yet-formalized parcels (BP4/5/6, Pollane 1-4). See new "New evidence" section.
- 2026-08-01 — Tabulated the "4th BP↔SP marriage" count from existing worksheets (Methodology/consistency section). Only 2 of the 4 candidates are a clean Bela Peč↔Zgornje Palovče marriage; one (Joseph Pistotnik×Elizabeta Osredkar, 1730) is actually Gabria→BP3, and one (Bartholomew Pistotnik×Helena Shumer) remains unconfirmed. Checked off, not deleted, so the reasoning stays visible.
- 2026-07-31 — Added Matricula citations for Blasius Pistotnik's 1776 marriage and Valentin Pistotnik's 1783 marriage (found via the Acorn claims-promotion sweep; new source docs `e951d921` / `ca92da7e`, Matricula 03372 Šmartno v Tuhinju). Neither eliminates a candidate by timing; Blasius's crossed-out register entry and Valentin's "Pistotnik Osredkar" compound surname are both worth following up. Added a "New evidence" section and updated the high-priority open question.
- 2026-05-22 — Larry supplied the name of Eliz's illegitimate child (Oswald, d. 1842). Re-audited against Acorn and found that the previous identification of "Barthol Pistotnik Jr (b. 1817, d. Dec 1842)" as Stephan & Eliz's legitimate heir was wrong — that Barthol Jr is the son of Bartholomew Pistotnik (b. 1767) at Schuttenbach 3 / Zale 3, not at BP3. Bartholomew (b. 1767) moved off BP3 after birth; he is not in the BP3 line, and Stephan Pistotnik at BP3 must descend from one of Bartholomew's siblings (Blasius b.1751, Mathias b.1755, or Valentin b.1758). Corrections applied to: Executive Summary, Pistotnik chain diagram, Gary's findings (Oswald name added to #2), 1842/1843 cluster table (Dec 1842 entry removed), "Three mechanisms" → renamed "Poljansek entry mechanisms" with mechanism #3 reframed as "absence of heir" not "death of heir," High-priority open questions (added Stephan parentage; added legitimate-sons question), Acorn additions section (added Oswald, Stephan, and a note about claims `d8f24797` / `c46531be`).
- 2026-05-18 — first draft, based on Gary's email response to the Livku article translation
